BPI-Philam Global Equity Fund Market Commentary

Global equity markets tumbled in December as hawkish rhetoric from central banks and mounting risks of a global slowdown continued to dominate headlines. November US annual headline inflation was softer-than-expected at 7.1%, supporting a slower pace of monetary policy tightening. The Federal Reserve raised its interest rates by 50 basis points in their December meeting, after four consecutive 75 basis point hikes. Despite the slower pace of rate hikes, the central bank remained committed and has indicated that it will keep interest rates higher for longer than expected to bring down inflation. Markets sold off amid concerns about weaker economic data, downside earnings risk and continued hawkish Fed rhetoric. Meanwhile, emerging market equities outperformed broader equity markets as China relaxed its stringent COVID policies. China's health commission released new measures to move the country towards reopening, driving a rebound in Chinese equities as investors banked on its economic reopening.

Risk Warning: Past performance is not indicative of future results. Our investment management services relate to a variety of investments, each of which can fluctuate in value. The value of portfolios we manage may fall as well as rise, and the investor may not get back the full amount originally invested. The investment risks vary between different types of instruments. For example, for investments involving exposure to a currency other than that in which the portfolio is denominated, changes in the rate of exchange may cause the value of investments, and consequently the value of the portfolio, to go up or down. In the case of a higher volatility portfolio the loss on realization or cancellation may be very high (including total loss of investment), as the value of such an investment may fall suddenly and substantially. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the merits and risks involved. Disclaimer: Unless otherwise noted, all information contained herein is sourced from BPI AIA* internal data.
