Risk Warning: Past performance is not indicative of future results. Our investment management services relate to a variety of investments, each of which can fluctuate in value. The value of portfolios we manage may fall as well as rise, and the investor may not get back the full amount originally invested. The investment risks vary between different types of instruments. For example, for investments involving exposure to a currency other than that in which the portfolio is denominated, changes in the rate of exchange may cause the value of investments, and consequently the value of the portfolio, to go up or down. In the case of a higher volatility portfolio the loss on realization or cancellation may be very high (including total loss of investment), as the value of such an investment may fall suddenly and substantially. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of the merits and risks involved. Disclaimer: Unless otherwise noted, all information contained herein is sourced from BPI AIA* internal data. Market Commentary

Asian equities rose in August. The month began with a sharp equity sell-off driven by US recession fears following a weaker-than-expected unemployment report and a surprise BoJ rate hike, which led to a sharp appreciation of the JPY and a carry trade unwind. Despite these initial shocks, markets recovered as US recession fears eased with better growth and inflation data. The US Dollar marginally weakened over the month on anticipated rate cuts, benefiting ASEAN markets in particular, which significantly outperformed. Outside ASEAN, Hong Kong, Australia, and Taiwan outperformed, while Korea, China, and India underperformed.
